CURFMAN WONT RUN

DECLINES TO ACCEPT NOMINATION FOR MAYOR

W. O. GARRETT FOR PLACE

Former Hardware Merchant and Well Known Citizen Is Being Urged to Make the Race

E. C. Curfman, who has been solicited to run for mayor at the coming city election on a non-partisan ticket, declined the honor today.

Petitions were circulated yesterday afternoon among the voters asking Mr. Curfman to accept the place and within an hour nearly three hundred citizens had signed the petitions.

In declining the nomination Mr. Curfman makes the following statement:

"Maryville, Mo., Mar. 8.

"Editors Democrat-Forum:

"I beg to avail myself of the use of your columns to express my feeling of appreciation and obligation to those who, during the last few days have requested me verbally and by petition to become a candidate for mayor at the approaching city election.

"After some consideration I at first concluded that a due regard for my obligations as a citizen interested in the welfare of our town and community would make it incumbent upon me to accede to these requests. Further reflection has convinced me that the circumstances of my business and family absolutely forbid it.

"Again thanking those who have so kindly interested themselves in my proposed candidacy, I am,

"Very respectfully,

"EDWIN C. CURFMAN."

Many citizens have suggested W. O. Garrett for mayor, and it is believed he will accept. He is the son of the late W. T. (Bill) Garrett, who made one of the best mayors Maryville ever had. Mr. Garrett recently sold his hardware store here and his friends believe he can give sufficient time to conduct the duties of the office.

Mr. Garrett is an able and progressive business man and familiar with affairs of the city and will make a good man for the place.

IS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

Robert Criswell Arrested at Home of Uncle On Information From Council Bluffs, Ia.

Robert Criswell, a young man about twenty-one years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff John F. Dowden on information from the sheriff of Pottawatomie county, Iowa, that he was wanted at Council Bluffs to answer a charge of robbing a store there in company with three others.

Sheriff Dowden arrested the young man at the home of his uncle, Wm. Nooks, who lives northeast of Pickering, where he was visiting. He was brought to Maryville and later turned over to the sheriff, W. A. Gronaweg, of Pottawatomie county, who came for him. Young Criswell is charged with complicity in the robbery of a store of $15 in money and a quantity of merchandise. Sheriff Gronaweg said the other two men had confessed to the robbery and had been sentenced to prison. Criswell was married last June by Justice Johnson. His wife was with him at the Nooks home and came to Maryville with Sheriff Dowden when her husband was arrested.

NORTHERN LIGHTS FLASHED

A Rare View Was Had Last Night of the Aurora Borealis — Most Beautiful In Years

Maryville had an opportunity last night to view a fine display of the aurora borealis, or northern lights, always rare in this latitude. The beautiful, ever-changing lights were visible from shortly after dark until late in the evening. Many mistook them for fires somewhere in the country and a number of phone calls were received at the central office asking the location.

According to press reports the phenomenon was observed from the Atlantic coast to Denver, while the electrical disturbance greatly interfered with telegraph service. The unusual red color of the aurora borealis is believed to have resulted from peculiar electrical conditions in the upper strata of the atmosphere.

NOW A GARDEN ARMY

TO ENLIST FIVE MILLION CHILDREN IN CAMPAIGN

40,000 TEACHERS AID

Competitions and Prizes for the Winners Therefor Will Mark the Nation-wide Drive

Washington, March 8.—Formation of the "United States Garden Army," with a membership of 5,000,000 children, and having for its purpose the supplying of the family of each member with vegetables, small fruits and eggs during the summer and fall, is announced by the department of the interior. The department is organizing the children in cities, towns, villages and suburban homes, while the department of agriculture is doing the same work with the children of the farming districts.

The children will be in charge of 40,000 teachers and there will be four or five general superintendents in charge of the districts in which the country is to be divided. The campaign will be marked by competitions and honors, prizes and distinctions will be given the winners. Members will be permitted to display the insignia of the new service, "U. S. G. A."

The announcement says that officials and dignitaries from President Wilson down are taking an interest in the plan. Cardinal Gibbons has answered for the participation of the parochial schools.

It is planned to make the gardening army a continual process. Every generation of children will be brought into the army as soon as they reach a certain age.

"How broad the scope of the enterprise of bringing the children into their country's service is may be guaged from the rough estimates of what they will accomplish," says the announcement. "The food they will produce, translated into terms of money, would duplicate our airship program, or, on the navy side, would reproduce all the destroyers and submarine chasers we are sending to blow the U-boats out of the sea. If Hurley had the spending of it, it would produce 800 splendid cargo ships."

IN RED CROSS NAME

NO DIVISION OF PROFITS IS ALLOWED IN BENEFITS

PROMOTERS ARE BARRED

Federal Law Makes Misuse of Name or Emblem Misdemeanor and Provides a Heavy Penalty

For the benefit of the public and Red Cross workers and members the following laws governing society funds and rules regarding entertainments and benefits are of interest at this time and are furnished by the secretary of the Nodaway county chapter.

Soliciting and Collecting Funds.

Chapters must take exceptional care that all soliciting and collecting of funds in the name of the Aemrican Red Cross is done by authorized persons.

All persons soliciting or collecting funds for the American Red Cross must have a certificate of authority signed by an officer of the chapter or branch having jurisdiction where the funds are solicited. There must be no exception to this rule.

All funds collected for the American Red Cross must be accounted for and must always be turned in to the local chapter or branch where collected.

Plan entertainments and benefits in accordance with the following laws:

Entertainments or Benefits.

Many chapters are being approached with offers of entertainments, all or a part of the proceeds of which are to be donated to the Red Cross. Under these circumstances it seems essential that some general policy should be defined for the information and guidance of chapters.

Experience has taught that the Red Cross must exercise the greatest caution and discretion in accepting offers of assistance of this character. In some cases the motive prompting the offers are entirely philanthropic. In other cases offers are actuated by both philanthropic and selfish motives and in still other cases the motives are entirely selfish.

When offers are received by chapters the greatest care must be exercised to determine in which of the above classes the case belongs. The following general laws are stated as a guide to chapters in considering offers of assistance through the medium of entertainments, it being recognized that each individual case will have to be decided by chapter officers on the ground and that no hard and fast rule would be applicable in every instance.

First. No offers may be accepted contemplating a division of profits between the promoters and the Red Cross. This rule applies to the manufacture and sale of merchandise or articles of any kind as well as entertainments.

Second. No one shall be permitted to promote or advertise an entertainment or like function as a Red Cross entertainment or benefit unless you are sure the management or control is entirely in the hands of the Red Cross chapter.

Third. If, after due investigation, those offering to conduct the entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross are found to be entirely reliable and acting in good faith, they may be permitted to make announcement in the press or otherwise of their intention to donate the proceeds of the entertainment to the Red Cross, but the entertainment should not be advertised as a Red Cross benefit or Red Cross entertainment, nor any wording used in the announcements that would leave the public to believe that it is being given under the auspices of the Red Cross or that the Red Cross is in any way connected with or responsible for its management.

Fourth. In no instance shall the Red Cross emblem, in announcing or advertising an entertainment, be authorized except in the case of such entertainments as are actually managed and controlled by the Red Cross chapter.

Fifth. There should be a well defined policy in each chapter in regard to these matters. People offering their services to the Red Cross may not easily understand why they are not immediately accepted. Some one person in each office should be familiar with this policy and authorized to speak for the chapter. This authorized spokesman should also act

THEIR EYES GOUGED OUT

American Soldiers Who Fell Into the Hands of Huns Were Returned to their Comrades Terribly Mutilated

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Mar. 8. — American soldiers who have fallen into the hands of the Germans have had their eyes gouged out, according to a story printed today by the New York World. Narratives from several Americans invalidated home are retold by the World which quotes Albert Sykes as follows: "Twelve men went out on patrol one night and failed to return. We thought they had been captured, and they had, but they came back to us. They were found lying out in front of our trenches on the second morning after their capture with their eyes gouged out and some of the bodies were terribly mutilated."

NATIONAL PARTY PLATFORM

Bone Dry Prohibition for Nation, Suffrage and Continued Government Control, Is the Program

Chicago, March 8.—Bone dry prohibition for the nation through ratification of the present constitutional amendment, equal suffrage and the continuance of government control of industries after the war, are the planks accepted by the national party in convention here. The platform in general is grounded under three heads, namely: "Political democracy," "industrial democracy" and "international democracy." A plank regarded as a vital one advocates labor legislation that would result in complete unionization of government work, the representation of labor on all publicly owned industries, a shorter work day, government insurance against industrial accidents and old age pensions.

TO PROBE DRAFT WEDDINGS

County Attorney Is Made Special Agent to Investigate Marriages of Registered Men

Forty-eight young married men who have entered matrimony since registration for the selective draft on the 5th of last June will be required to appear before County Attorney Wm G. Sawyers, who has been made a special agent of the district draft board, when inquiry will be made as to whether the marriage was contracted with a view to escaping the draft.

The board has turned all these cases over to the county attorney to make full and complete investigation and the men are instructed to appear with such witnesses as they desire. Attorney Sawyers is not the final arbiter but will make examination of the circumstances in connection with each marriage and report his findings to the draft board. Where it is found that a marriage was entered into in order to escape military service on the ground of having a dependent wife the registrant will be cited for service if other requirements are met. The clerk of the local board is mailing notices to the men today.

TELL OF WAR NEEDS

FOOD SPEAKERS ADDRESS BIG CROWD AT NORMAL

SPEAK AGAIN TONIGHT

Mrs. Hale and Mr. Trefz In Patriotic Talks at Christian Church Will Tell of Conditions In Europe

Unless conditions undergo a decided change there is good prospect that every able bodied man in the country between the ages of eighteen and sixty will be drafted for service as shipbuilders, Edward P. Trefz, representing the Hoover food commission recently returned from Europe, told members of the Commercial Club and business men at a luncheon at the Bainum today. Mr. Trefz gave his audience some eye-openers in regard to the war and inside facts concerning conditions in Europe.

While Mr. Trefz was talking to the business men, Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale spoke to members of the women's clubs at the Linville where she was entertained before going to the Normal school for an afternoon address. Mrs. Hale in turn presented the women with some startling facts regarding the need of food consumption and the conditions in Europe, where she also has been as a member of the food commission.

At the Normal this afternoon Mrs. Hale, addressing the women in the interest of food conservation, said the pig and its by-products had become of supreme importance in the winning of the war, the meat keeping better and being more sustaining, while the fats were of the greatest importance to the manufacture of oils and shells.

Mrs. Hale emphasized the importance of the little things as a necessity to the winning of the war, characterizing as fully important the conservation of the woman in the kitchen as the woman doing Red Cross service near the battle fronts.

No Sex Distinction.

"The war has leveled class distinctions and done away with sex," said Mrs. Hale. "Every man and every woman is doing his or her level best and to the end of the conflict this will be so. In England, women who formerly lead luxurious and protected lives have raised the acreage of the cereal crops from one-fifth to one-third the amount necessary for England's sustenance. In France women are doing a double shift in the factories, their homes and the fields."

Need More Ships.

"There is plenty of food in the world to feed all of the soldiers and the civilians if it could be transported," said Mrs. Hale. "The one trouble is ships. The German U-boats have contributed to the failure of many shiploads of food products to reach the noncombatants, but the people of our own country are as much to blame because they have not provided the ships.

"Millions of bushels of wheat are rotting on the wharves in Australia because the ships to carry it to England and France are not available, and the same is true of other food products that formerly were shipped to these countries from distant points.

"If it were not for the German ships interned in American ports, we would not have ships sufficient to carry American troops across today. As it is, many of them are being sent over on British boats."

Mrs. Hale emphasized the need of sending the most sustaining foods to the soldiers and civilians "over there."

Shows German Diary.

Edward F. Trefz, recently returned from France, recited many tales of German atrocities and told of conditions in more than a hundred of the 237 villages occupied and later devastated by the Germans which he had vis-

MORE HELP FOR SOLDIERS

Congress Gives Them Relief From Pressing Debts — No Property Losses Under New Law

Washington, March 8. — Giving sweeping protection to Uncle Sam's fighting men, the so-called soldiers' and sailors' civil rights bill has been approved by congress.

Under the provisions of the bill fighting men and their dependents are protected against conviction for non-payment of rent, loss of life insurance through delayed premiums; the execution of mortgages against their property; loss of their homes on which part payment has been made; loss of property through non-payment of fees.

All this protection is given on the condition that a man's normal ability to meet his obligations has been "materially affected" by his military service.

The measure has been before congress almost since the first of the war. Difficulties of drafting it and the protests of certain insurance, building and loan companies and similar interests delayed its passage.

With the war risk insurance bill, it is declared by administration leaders to make up the most liberal legislation in protection of a nation's fighters in history. Its final approval was by unanimous vote.

Our guess is that La Follette is not going to fill many chautauqua dates this summer.

At the Great Lakes naval training school there is a man who has enlisted for the third time and who has also been married three times. Some men never know when they have had enough fighting.

Maybe this is new to you: Two negro base ball teams were playing one Sunday afternoon and the stands were crowded to capacity. A white man who went to the game had to walk around to a place close to the left fielder in order to see the game. The game had been on about thirty minutes. "What is the score?" he asked the fielder. "Fifteen to nothin' against us," was the reply. "You are getting a pretty bad beating, it looks like," said the white man. "Beatin' nothin," replied the black. "We haven't been to bat yet."

They say one Maryville soldier took out $10,000 worth of life insurance on the theory that Uncle Sam is too smart to put any $10,000 risks on the firing line.

The war department wants to spend 450 million dollars more for aeroplanes. Flying certainly does come high.

The average man's idea of medicine for immediate relief is the kind that comes in a bottle with a government stamp on it showing that it was bottled in bond.

"Must Load to Capacity," reads a headline in a St. Joe paper. Needless advice for a lot of fellows we know of.

A prominent Nodaway county citizen told us the other day that he likes flattery even if he knows it isn't true. We have observed that the only person who likes flattery better than a woman is a man.

Guess we can qualify under the "Nobody Givesadurn" list an item to the effect that the office of mayor is going begging this year.

Didja ever notice that when money talks it never has to repeat? It can easily be heard the first time.

The old school geography defined an ocean as "a body of water entirely surrounded by land." It ought to be revised to read, "the ocean is a body of water entirely surrounded by trouble."

"Trotzky Getting Out" says a headline in the St. Joe Gazette. What's he getting out—of it?

With Oxfords at $35, Champagne at $15 per Quart and Cigarettes at 14 Cents Each, Life in Paris is Knotty Problem

SACK SUITS COST $100 AND "CHEAP" NECKTIES MAY BE HAD FOR $1.20—DOLLAR UNDERWEAR BRINGS $6.00 AND MILITARY BOOTS $110—PRICES TO JUMP AGAIN IN APRIL

(By Henry G. Wales)

Paris, March 8. — Because of the poor grape crops between 1905 and 1911 the wine prices are very high and mounting constantly as supplies become diminished. Dry champagne is hard to find at any price and one can only be sure of getting it in a few of the leading restaurants. It commands fifty to seventy-five francs a bottle. The cheaper, sweet champagne is at least twenty-five francs and probably thirty or thirty-five.

Burgundy has advanced more sharply than Bordeaux because of the smaller amount made and the fact that British and Americans prefer the former. The most mediocre wines are eight and ten francs a bottle and if one does not order something to drink an extra charge of a couple of francs is placed on the bill.

Liquors are now three to five francs in the better restaurants and never less than two francs anywhere. Cointreau, vieux marc, Vielle Cure and Raspail are the favorites as the Chartreuse, Benedictine, creme de menthe and other old favorites are not up to the former qualities.

Cocktails cost two and one-half francs or three and one-half, according to where they are purchased. They are only available in the few places known as "American bars," and in a few hotels. Whiskey, brandy, gin or any drinks containing them may be sold only between noon and 2 o'clock and from 7:30 at night until 9:30, the closing hour for all cafes and restaurants.

Highballs are four and five francs apiece, with the bartender dealing out the whiskey in modest proportions. Many Americans are learning to like the French aperitifs—vermouth, cassis, picon, port and sherry—because they cannot afford the excessive prices on cocktails and spirits.

Clothing, particularly for men, has reached prohibitive quotations. This is due to the fact that tailors rely chiefly on their military clientele now and make more uniforms in a day than they make civilian suits in a month. Soldiers and officers order their tunics and breeches without regard to cost so when one orders a sack suit which would have cost $30 or $35 a year ago, he will find it costing $75 to $100 today.

Haberdashery, too, is climbing steadily and it is practically impossible to find a shirt for less than twenty francs—more than $3. The cheapest scarfs that are shown are five francs—a dollar—and sox are from six francs and a half up.

Underwear has advanced even more sharply in price, particularly in the heavier weights for winter wear. Garments which would sell in New York at a dollar fetch five and six dollars here.

Boots and shoes have set the record in hill-climbing, however. One hundred and seventy-five francs for a pair of ordinary oxfords is not considered too high a price. And high shoes run twenty-five to fifty francs higher. Military boots reaching to below the knee cost from 300 to 550 francs. Ordinary leather laces for these boots cost two dollars a pair. It costs five dollars to have a pair of shoes resoled and heeled and the leather used is very inferior quality.

There is little need in quoting the advance in prices for cigars, cigarettes and tobacco because of the fact that they are unavailable at this time—have been for more than a month—and there is no prospect of their being on sale as usual for some little time to come. No tobacco of any kind is on sale in the ordinary tobacconist shops, and one can find cigarettes only in the "American bars" and in the better restaurants and hotels.

A box of ten Egyptian cigarettes will cost five to seven francs—a dollar to a dollar and forty cents for ten. Cigars are six to ten francs apiece. French tobacco from all over the country has been gathered up by the government and sent up to the army zone that the soldiers may not be forced to go without. So that the civilian population must go without. The poilus continue to get their Maryland and Levant cigarettes and those in the rear who can't afford the excessive prices of the imported cigarettes must do without.

The above mentioned prices, it must be remembered, do not represent the cost of living for pampered millionaires who have no need to worry about money. They are the prices which Americans in France must pay in order to live with any degree of comfort.

Officers and men in the United States army may obtain lower rates when on leave in Paris by living and eating in the Y. M. C. A. hotels here or other similar organizations. But many of them prefer to live in the hotels and dine in the restaurants, as after several months at "the camp" they have saved up a goodly sum of pay and are "fed up" and anxious for a little change and excitement.

On April 1 prices will be boosted all around again by the new tax on luxuries, and "luxuries" will cover practically everything that an American will purchase over here. All hotels which even the most economical American would stop at will be classed as "luxurious hotels," and all restaurants where even the simplest-tasted American would eat are classed as "luxurious restaurants."

All clothing over a certain price will be termed "luxurious clothing." The government has decided to tack a fifteen per cent tax on all hotels, restaurants, clothing and other articles which are labeled "luxurious."

All French people of mediocre means will be enabled to dodge this "luxury" tax without trouble, but Americans will find it difficult to escape paying the additional fifteen per cent on every hand. Fortunately for them, however, nearly all civilian Americans now in Paris are independently rich, or, if employed here, have liberal expense accounts to carry them along.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McMillen of Pickering returned last night from St. Joseph where they have been attending the automobile show.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrberg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

FLAGS FOR NEW LIBERTY LOAN

Honor Emblems for Campaign Starting in April—Red Border, White Field and Three Blue Stripes

Washington, March 8. — The third Liberty Loan, which will open on April 6, is to have a distinctive flag of its own.

Red border, white interior field and three vertical blue stripes—this is the design for the honor emblem which will be bestowed upon each city exceeding its quota of Liberty bonds. If a city doubles its quota a star will be added to its flag and a tripling of the quota will be recognized by two stars.

Among other features of a honor system, devised for the third Liberty Loan and announced by Secretary McAdoo, is the plan of giving a window card bearing a reproduction of the flag to each purchaser of a bond and of establishing honor rolls in each community or organization of any kind to bear the names of the subscribers.

It is planned also to unfurl a state honor flag at each capital after the campaign is ended, to bear the names and records of each community which won a quota flag. A national flag, to be flown at Washington after the campaign, will bear the records of states.

FRENCH SIES COMING THE BOYS PREPARE

Pi[illegible]rg, Mass., March 8.—Young men in this city are beginning to brush up their French. It's all because Lieut. Charles J. Kilpatrick, an electrician who is organizing lines of communication between battalion units of the United States army in France, in letters written to friends here, predicts that thousands of French girls will flock to the United States after the war.

"And they are some girls," comments Kilpatrick.

In sustaining these stories, Mr. Trefz exhibited a diary taken from a German soldier, the first printed rule of which commanded the carrying out of the imperial policy in this regard.

In a district 165 miles long and sixty-five miles wide, Mr. Trefz said, the Germans had destroyed everything of value, driven women between the ages of 15 and 35 years into slavery and maiming those left behind.

"You can't get an American soldier in France today out of there without invalidating him home or sending him out in a coffin," declared Mr. Trefz. "They have found conditions there of an unprintable and unspeakable nature, and they are ready to free the world of an enemy who will commit such atrocities."

"This isn't a war, so far as America is concerned, but a crusade, and we can't afford to fail in backing up the boys in the trenches."

H. G. Conklin, who enlisted in the United States army, and has been stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas, writes of army life as follows:

"I enlisted in the United States army one and one-half years ago and was sent to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., where I remained for three months. I was then transferred to El Paso, Texas, to guard the border. I was put in Company L, 34th Infantry, the best company in the regiment. I have been in Company L one year and would not take $5,000 for what I have seen and learned since joining the army.

"Army life is not so hard as some people think. We drill six hours each day. Each day we get three good meals, and we also have a good bed. I don't know whether drafted men get as good as we do or not, but I hope so. I ask anyone thinking army life does not improve a man to come to Company L, 34th Infantry, Fort Bliss, Texas."

MARCH 21, 1918

Beginning at 1 o'clock p. m.

There are forty-seven cattle listed for this sale, consisting of twenty-seven cows and heifers, and nineteen bulls.

The cattle are consigned by the following members, who are among the leading breeders of Pure Bred Aberdeen Angus cattle in Southwest Iowa:

Every animal listed, has been inspected by Mr. E. T. Davis of Iowa City, Field Representative of the American Aberdeen Angus Association, for individuality. These rigid examinations and guarantees should appeal very forcibly to every prospective buyer.

The cows and heifers of this sale are a very good lot, many of them will have calves at foot, and others will be near calving to the service of some of the best bulls of the breed.

In the nineteen bulls listed will be found bulls that will please the breeder who is looking for a herd bull. The farmer, rangeman or stockman will also find bulls to suit their needs. These bulls run in age from fifteen months to two years, and are a strong, heavy boned lot of the Angus type.
